Hagop Shahinian is a Yerevan based designer born in Aleppo, Syria. Hagop's goal is to introduce the Syrian & Armenian aesthetic to the world and reform the destructive stereotypes about Syria that have found their place in the world's media.

Hagop created his own brand (Hagop Shahinian) in Yerevan in April 2017 after working for many other brands in Syria.

Hagop's work is inspired by the two cultures he grew up in and his architectural background to create his designs.

Made-vel-e is a social enterprise, located in Dilijan Tavush region, where the youth migrate to Yerevan for a brighter future and the non-tech savvy older generation are left behind, waiting for guidance and an opportunity to grow. In rural Armenia, jobs are scarce and inhabitants' abilities are limited. The goal is to create inclusive and self-sufficient communities. This is achieved by implementing the 1 Region = 1 Product program, where one unique product for each region is established. The program focuses on capacity building and empowerment of unemployed adults with the aim to start/restart their vocations and careers, by teaching artisanal skills.

Presenting a high-quality collection of tops and blouses, using high quality poplin and piques made in organic cotton. The production can be quite flexible catering for clients demands. It reflects modern, up to date trends plus the added spice of typical local cross-stitch embroidery or powerful abstract, individualized prints or a mix of both. The stand-alone tops (plain) are just as provocative as they are practical.
